

SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

We certainly do not like the sales tax. We believe it a nuisance, inconvenient and unjust to merchants who are forced to collect it. But as compared with the single tax, the sales tax is a honey. We may hope for a suitable, equitable substitution for the bothersome sales tax, but we also hope it will not come in the form as proposed in proposition 20 on the ballot. We have sufficient taxation problems now without adding to the grief.

Deer and trout may heave a sigh of relief Saturday as the hunting and fishing seasons end, but heaven help the unsuspecting feathered friend the duck. For 30 days shot guns will be the vogue as rifles and rods take their places on shelves for the winter.

It has begun to appear that even our most ardent winter sports fans of past seasons are willing that the annual program here be shuffled in to the discard this year. If anyone has a suitable substitute for this valuable community asset, it might be well to air it while there is still time.

We are in receipt of a letter from a prominent Tahoe resort owner in which he expressed his gratitude for the support the Sierra Sun has given the Tahoe and High Sierra area. We surely appreciate the attitude of this subscriber. On the other hand we feel that we are doing only what is our pleasure and duty in boosting the region. It would be difficult to find a better subject or one more worthy of commendation and deserving of unified support. We believe the Tahoe-Truckee region far superior to all other recreational centers and defy statements to the contrary. Be assured we will continue to boost and praise our region, with thanks if you please, but praise nevertheless.

Car Fired Upon Here By Unknown Ambusher Tues.

Red Adams Escapes Assassin As Car Hit Five Times With Bullets

Climaxing nearly a week of seething activity in this district as local Committee of Industrial Organization members attempted to bring the Verdi highway project under CIO jurisdiction, G. L. (Red) Adams, president of the Boca Dam and Construction Workers Local No. 402, reported to officers Wednesday morning that he was fired upon from ambush near Boca at 10:45 o'clock Tuesday night as he turned off the main highway to report to work at Boca dam.

Adams, who has been active in attempting to have the Verdi job, under contract to the Isbell Construction company voted into the union, said he had no idea of the identity of his would-be assassin, but exhibited five bullet holes in his car to verify the report. Position of the bullet marks bore out the story as related by Adams.

Adams said he left Truckee about 10:30 for Boca. He was followed by a car from Truckee, but paid it little attention until he reached the point where the Boca road turns north off the highway. Here, he said, he glanced into the rear-view mirror to see if he had clearance to make the left hand turn to Boca. As he did so, he saw the lights of the following car flash as if in prearranged signal.

A moment later a number of sharp reports and flashes of fire came from the vicinity of an abandoned automobile body near the Boca road, bullets whistling by the driver's head as he sped on.

Five of the deadly shots struck the machine, two shattering the windshield from in front, one glancing off the top right over the driver's head one glancing off the side of the door and the fifth striking near the rear of the car. One bullet came within a narrow margin of striking Adams in the face and embedded itself in the rear cushion. Had he been accompanied by anyone, they no doubt would have been struck.

Adams said he had no recollection of the number of shots fired, being too much upset by the suddenness of the assault.

While John D. Walker, international secretary of the TCWOC, branded the episode as an outgrowth of the recent Nevada controversies, in which CIO delegations were denied the right to organize the Verdi project and warned the CIO members to stay away from the job, under threat of violence, Adams said he had not the faintest idea of the origin of the shots.

The trouble between Isbell and the CIO started a week ago when nearly 250 armed deputies under District Attorney Ernest Brown, assembled at Verdi to prevent picketing by the CIO workers. The CIO left the job and returned in delegations to confer with Brown without gaining their point. A meeting with Governor Kirtman Tuesday, attended by Adams, likewise proved fruitless.

In the meantime, picket lines were established at Sacramento, Salt Lake City and on the state line near here urging motorists to stay out of the State of Nevada, which they declared was unfair to organized labor.

During the first day's controversy at Verdi in which District Attorney Brown took an active lead in behalf of the contractors or against CIO members, Melvin Wilburn of Truckee was allegedly struck in the face by Nevada's "fighting district attorney" and then lodged in jail. He was released later in the day and few days later filed suit, through Leo Gallagher, San Francisco, counsel for the CIO here, for $25,000 damages in the Carson City court. That blow, so far as learned marked the only violence up until the shooting Tuesday that had taken place, despite continued threats.

Today work was proceeding on the Verdi job peacefully without the CIO sanction while 15 miles west

Preparations for the reception of Grand Chancellor Wilbert C. Hamilton of Los Angeles, head of the Knights of Pythias in the state, are being completed here by officers and members of Summit Lodge. The meeting, to be held Friday evening at Odd Fellows hall, will be featured by a venison stew, four fine bucks having been contributed by the members for the occasion.

Besides a large attendance from Summit Lodge, other lodges in the district are being invited, including the Nevada delegations headed by Grand Chancellor E. E. Winters of Fallon.

Robert Siebold, chancellor commander of the local lodge, will preside.

ICKES IN RENO TO DISCUSS TAHOE DEAL

Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes is expected to speak before the National Reclamation Association convention to be held in Reno today.

Lake Tahoe land owners expect that Ickes will make a complete study of the lands in the Tahoe region as the forest service proposes to purchase lands in the Tahoe area as an addition to the Tahoe National Forest.

Damage to private property reportedly caused at the lake by high water will be brought to his attention for study, it is reported.

The last congress killed an item in the deficiency appropriation bill calling for an appropriation of $350,000 for purchase of Tahoe lands. The forests are under the supervision of the Secretary of Agriculture, but Mr. Ickes is a member of the National Forest Preservation Commission, to which the Tahoe land purchase proposal would be referred.

PLACER BOARD VOTES $1000 TO AID IN CISCO WINTER AREA

Realizing the monetary asset of snow sports to the whole country, the Placer County Board of Supervisors voted that one thousand dollars of the county's state liquor control fund be used to further the work being done at the grounds of the Auburn Ski Club, located at Cisco Grove.

The available money will be spent to provide a water supply for the grounds and to establish a recreation and athletic center.

Election Called To Vote On New Power Plant

$66,000 Needed to Match WPA Grant to Erect Local Plant

Directors of the Truckee Public Utility District have called an election for November 4, at which time decide whether or not a bond issue local voters will be called upon to sue shall be authorized to erect a power plant on the Truckee river.

Matching a Public Works Administration grant of $54,000, the bonds proposed will be for a total of $66,000, redeemable annually for 25 years and bearing interest of five per cent.

The $120,000 project, half of which must be financed by bonds, would result in a saving of more than half in the cost of power here, C. Edmunds, district manager said.

Full details of the proposal will be found in a legal ad appearing in this issue.

FIRST MEETING OF P. T. A. HELD HERE

A meeting of the Truckee P. T. A. was held at the grammar school on Friday with Mrs. Lyle Smith presiding. After the business session, Mrs. S. M. Richardson spoke on the various amendments to be voted on at the election. She also explained to the group what a life membership means and the benefits that the boys and girls may derive from it. Mrs. Richardson was presented with a life membership pin.

The program for the year was read by Miss Evelyn Reynolds. Mrs. R. G. Buddle gave a delightful reading which was followed by songs.

Forest Service Check Of Deer Shows 544 Killed In 15 Days

A total of 544 bucks were checked through forest service checking stations of the Tahoe National Forest to September 30, according to DeWitt Nelson, forest supervisor at Nevada City.

These figures do not include the various other methods and places of checking deer, such as justices of peace and other officers designated.

The following distribution is given by ranger districts: Big Bend, 70; Bloomfield, 182; Forest Hill, 20; Comptonville, 15; Downieville, 19; Sierraville, 78; Truckee, 160.

The deer were reported generally as in good condition. A number of dead does and fawns have been found in the woods, according to Nelson, indicating that there are still hunters who shoot first and look for the horns afterward.

Evidently the wearing of red apparel has served to spare the hunters themselves, no casualties having been reported to date.

One discouraging feature, Nelson says, is that although the total number of hunters in the woods is about the same as last season, there have been seven hunter fires reported to date, a considerable increase over the same period last year.

MATRON FETED AT BRIDGE LUNCHEON

A bridge luncheon given by Mrs. Opal Van Loven at her home on Monday brought together friends living in California and Nevada.

The decorative scheme of the appointments harmonized with the pink and white sweet peas supported by a low crystal bowl that was the center of attraction on the luncheon table.

Guests at the affair were Mesdames J. B. Sparks of Woodland, T. R. Patterson of Auburn, A. Russell, A. B. Clark and H. C. Majors, of Reno, Orland Sanders, N. F. Dolley both of Truckee, Thomas Rogers of Newcastle and William Miller of Sacramento.

TWO GIVEN IOOF DEGREE IN RENO

Two candidates, Harry Overland and Marvin Wilburn of Truckee were given the first degree in the Odd Fellows lodge at a meeting held in Reno Tuesday. Local members who accompanied District Deputy Grand Master F. S. Powell to the meeting were Herbert Canady, Chas. Bander, N. F. Dolley, H. Willis Frank Titus, George Andrich and J. T. Whitaker.

Single Tax Hit By State Man At Local Meet

Dangers of Single Tax Are Explain Here By State Man

Pointing out the hidden dangers in the single tax proposal, Proposition 20 on the November ballot, H. P. Kerrigan, official of the state Board of Equalization, Monday addressed a meeting of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce.

Although cloaked behind the promise of repealing the state sales tax, the measure is designed Kerrigan explained, simply and entirely to bring about the single tax, proponents of the plan using the troublesome sales tax as an easy horse to ride and obtain votes for their more drastic cause.

Kerrigan explained that had the single tax been in effect last year, Nevada County's tax rate would have soared from $3.04 paid to $16.12 on each $100 assessed valuation of real property.

He cited numerous other examples. For instance the fact that the sales tax, while it is troublesome and cumbersome to some, it offers an equitable form of taxation which includes many who are enjoying the privileges of California's fine form of government and benefits and who pay no other direct taxes whatsoever.

The single tax, the speaker said, removes all restrictions on the amount of taxation that can be collected from real property and will mean the abolition of $104,000,000 annually in taxes now being collected and spent in support of the state government and institutions, the principal beneficiary being the public schools.

He traced state taxation in its various forms from the time Henry George, credited with being the father of the single tax idea in California, to the present, pointing out the changes which have become necessary since 1912 when the plan was first defeated by a majority of 36,000, through the last election when single tax was on the ballot and beaten by 396,000 votes.

One of the most radical changes in taxation, he said, was when the Stewart-Riley bill was passed in 1933, putting the $1,000,000,000 collected from utilities back into county coffers and taking from the secondary school system of the state $88,000,000 each biennium.

While this plan was hailed as a worthy one by the majority of taxpayers, it forced immediate action to raise money to carry on where this huge utility tax had been paid. The sales tax was created as an emergency measure on July 29, 1933 and went into effect almost at once, bringing into the state treasury $90,000,000 annually. At the same time county tax rate cuts were made possible through the return of utility tax monies and on one piece of property in Placer county, which the speaker used as an example, the tax dropped from $655 in 1931 to $231.60 in 1934.

Vancouver, B.C., experimented with the land value tax (single tax) over an eight year period. Before the end of that time 75 per cent of the property on the assessment rolls was forfeited for ruinous taxes, population decreased, and the budget deficit increased from $200,000 to over $5,000,000, Kerrigan said. In the end the province was forced to declare the city bankrupt and the land value tax plan was abandoned.

Proponents of the plan, Kerrigan said, pointed out the fact that thousands of uncultivated acres were being held as investments and that only a small taxation was forthcoming from these lands. In argument he declared that at the present time one of our biggest problems was over production and that while it could be admitted large companies once held excessive land grants that they would be only too pleased to dispose of the grants at present.

There may be a remedy for the inconvenience caused by the sales tax, Kerrigan declared. This, he said, could come only through legislation, but he urged his listeners to see be (Continued on Page Six)

SAVE A LIFE

Can you and I, and California's two and a half million other motorists help save 8,500 lives this year?

And in saving those lives, spare thousands of families the needless heartbreak of children snatched from them, of fathers and mothers cruelly struck down, of all the tragedies that follow the jangling crashes of men and metal in collision.

The evidence is in the affirmative! For eight consecutive months, with September yet to be heard from, the traffic toll on the nation's highways and byroads has been markedly less than the 1937 fatality list, reported the national Safety Council last week.

Life saving on the nation's traffic networks is actually becoming a fact instead of a hope, but much remains to be done to end the threat of the speeding throttle. Death traps still lurk on poorly surfaced roads with outdated gradings. Irresponsible motorists, some with licenses revoked, still make of the roadways an Insanity Fair.

Admittedly, the safety job is not yet done, but a heartening record shows it well begun!

DEATH OF A HERO

Max Wald was a German boy of 15 when the World War broke out. A bright and brave boy. He proved his gallantry by entering the most dangerous branch of military service, the air force, and compiling a brilliant record. His boy's soul must have drunk deep of heady wine of high adventure in those days—his eyes must have shone gay and bold at praise of his commanders. Once he was shot down, but escaped uninjured.

At the end of the war he was 19. Still just a boy, and healthy and sound—physically. He came to live in America.

Of late Max Wald's eyes—not gay and bold, feverish and anxious—scanned, day after day, huge-type headlines foretelling another World War...day after day...day after day...

Last week Max Wald hanged himself in a New Jersey insane asylum.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

When Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over the lantern on October 9, 1871, she shed a great deal of light on the necessity of fire prevention.

The necessity still exists, for America's crackling flames last year licked up some $250,000,000 worth of property. Proper observance of Fire Prevention Week, October 9 to 15 means eliminating fire hazards. This is a wise man's way of fighting fire before the damage is done!

MERRIAM URGED TO APPOINT BANCROFT IN M'ADOO'S SENATE SEAT

Governor Frank F. Merriam is being urged by leading Republicans to appoint Phillip Bancroft, the party nominee for U.S. Senator, as Senator to succeed William Gibbs McAdoo, retired.

Bancroft is an able lawyer and successful farmer, and comes from a pioneer California family and would be well suited for the office, according to Republican leaders.

Such an appointment would be distinctly advantageous to the candidate in the coming election. Former President Herbert Hoover

Tahoe Ramblings

(By SWANEE)

Donations of books and magazines were made last week to the library by Mrs. Henry Soll, Mrs. Matt Green, Mrs. Charles Pick and Janet Watson who subscribed for two years to the Open Road for Boys for the benefit of Tahoe children.

On Wednesday 98 books were loaned out in one day, upholding the continued interest in Tahoe's library. Jack Starratt Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bechdolt, Jr., and daughter and James Worden enjoyed a respite from the University of Nevada over the week end by visiting families at Tahoe.

James Worden will be one of a group of five boys of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon who will represent their fraternity in the coming track meet on McKay Day at the University. Young Worden will participate in the long distance run from Reno to Sparks and back again, the race being an interfraternity event.

Wind, rain, hail and snow visited Tahoe region again on Friday, bestowing an additional coating of white to the peaks and high mountains of the area. About an inch of snow fell in the lowlands, remaining on the ground for some time. High waters and low temperatures prevailed during the storm. On Monday the lake level stood at 6227.72 with 303 C. S. F. of water leaving the Tahoe gates. Since September 1, a total of 1.61 inches of precipitation has been recorded.

On Friday afternoon Miss Evelyn Gail Gardiner, social worker and writer who has been sojourning at the W. A. Simmonds home in town, was invited to address the combined classes at the Tahoe Lake school. She presented an interesting and amusing synopsis of her varied travels in Europe and disclosed to the history students the chief cause of the present Spanish conflict. She also included in her program the reading of several pages from stories she has written for her forthcoming book and some excerpts from a story on bullfighting which she investigated thoroughly during her visit in Spain and around which she has woven a story of the first woman bullfighter in that country. She left on Monday for her home in Carmel.

Professor and Mrs. Henry Hinkle entertained some distinguished visitors at their Bettencourt tract home over last week in the personages of Alexander Lovredos, economic expert from Athens, who is studying conditions in America and delivering a course of lectures at Harvard University, Mr. A. Hughson of London, who plans to establish himself in business in America and become a citizen. Miss Sue Hinkle accompanied the visitors to Tahoe for the weekend from the University of California.

ROBBER FRUSTRATED IN TAHOE THEFT AS SUSPECT IS SEEN

TAHOE CITY, Oct. 13.— Mrs. Fenton Ball, wife of the caretaker at the Cutting Estate in Homewood, had an unusual experience last week when she drove into her yard only to discover a strange man acting suspiciously at the door of her neighbor's house. She watched for a few moments and saw that he was trying to break the door lock, so she walked over and asked politely:

"What are you trying to do, break in?"

The man, described as young, dark, small and well dressed, wheeled and ran past her to the highway, knocking her down as he did so.

A neighbor promised to call Constable Harry Johanson, but failed to do it. Nearly an hour later Mrs. Lee Garner who heard of the case called the constable. No trace of the intruder was found.

Later it was discovered that the Droste, Randolph, Shurtleff and the Breuner homes, all in Homewood, had been entered but a check of possible missing articles was unavailable at the time. It was believed the man was conducting a search for firearms and weapons as a dagger was taken from the Droste home. This annual invasion of the homes of the summer colonists is an especially good argument in favor of the appointment of a full-time salaried constable at Tahoe the year round. At present no provision is made for tracing down such cases, as no remuneration is made for such services. The petition circulated here now for a full time salaried officer is receiving approval and cooperation of property owners and voters.

Old buildings on the Tahoe commons are being removed this week as the steam shovel digs deeper into the bank at the Tahoe Wye which is being leveled by the Tahoe Realty Company to be made into building lots.

Local high school pupils are now gratefully enjoying the use of an exceptionally fine microscope in biology classes, a concession from the Placer County high school board.

Mrs. Louis V. Aelle of Tennessee, sister of Mrs. Lee Garner has arrived from Los Angeles where she has been visiting to enjoy an indefinite stay at the Garner home at Cedar Crest.

Mrs. James Wilson of Tahoe Cedars on Sunday evening was hostess at a triple birthday celebration honoring her husband, whose birthday falls on October 12, Charles Swanson, whose natal day was October 10 and Otis Hursey, who celebrates his on October 29. Halloween appointments

TAHOE YOUTH IS NABBED AS AUTO STOLEN FROM GREEN

TAHOE CITY, Oct. 13.— Donald Lister, 18, son of Mrs. Elwood Matthews of Joseph's Place at Homewood, was taken into custody on Thursday by Sacramento patrolmen on a warrant charging theft of Matt Green's car from his Tahoe Park premises.

It is believed the car was stolen during the night, being rolled by hand from the garage to a point away from the house where the sound of starting the car could not be heard. Green phoned the constable around 8 a. m. Johanson immediately giving full information to the Truckee station teletype which broadcast it to all points in California. At Auburn young Lister changed the license plates, officers said, in an attempt to avoid detection and continued on to Sacramento. Here, it was said, he made the mistake of failing to pay for gasoline purchased and the radio patrol cars were soon on the trail. By 10:30 a. m. he was in custody and officers of Sheriff Gum's office were en route to get him.

Officers said Lister had been in trouble three times previously this summer, having been arrested by Patrolman Gene Walker for speeding and other infractions of highway laws, his operator's license having been revoked. Prosecution will be conducted through the Auburn court, it was announced.

The score was 31 to 12 in favor of the Athletics when the championship game between the Brooklyn Atlantics and the Philadelphia Athletics was called in the seventh inning back in 1865 because of rain. It cost only one dollar to see and 2,000 fans paid and 6,000 crashed the gates.

THIS WEEK AT THE STATE CAPITOL

By JOHN ABBOTT
United Press Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 13.—(UP)—The campaign to publicize the $30 every Thursday pension proposition on the November ballot has already cost nearly a quarter million dollars, it was revealed this week in an itemized expense account filed with the secretary of state.

Expenditures of $241,603 were listed and receipts of $242,143, with a membership of 200,000 up to September 30. The expenses were segregated as follows: radio broadcast, $42,010; speakers bureau service and expense, $33,263; rent of offices, halls and auditoriums, $21,505; office help, expenses and postage, $52,092; literature, printing and advertising, $50,671; field organization expenses, including sound truck operating expenses, $23,132; fund in trust for campaign materials, $4,900; office equipment, $2,313; sound truck and equipment, $5,517; legal expenses, $717; miscellaneous, $485.

No individuals were listed to whom money was paid.

The pension report was the largest of any of the propositions on this year's ballot.

A rival controversial pension scheme cropped up when Luther Heilig, 50 year old Los Angeles private detective, registered his Live and Let Live Plan, providing a $80 per month payment for persons over 60 years.

Heilig plans to wait until after the election and hope for the defeat of the $30 plan. Then he wants to organize a march of 100,000 oldsters upon the legislature to demand the passage of his plan. He proposes a gross transaction tax of 1 or 1-2 per cent to finance the plan and restrict pensions to persons who have lived in the state at least 20 years.

Heilig was original, too, when he stated he made a living for himself didn't need a pension and didn't want glory out of his plan.

A check of the official vote at the primary election revealed that State Controller Harry Riley received the highest vote of any candidate, in winning the Republican, Democratic, Progressive and Townsend nominations.

Of the 3,454,058 persons eligible to vote in the primary election 2,069,025 cast ballots for a percentage of 59.90.

The state highway commission, beset with storm-damaged roads and greatly increasing demands for new construction, stressed a new policy of county and city cooperation on major highway projects. The commissioners said it would be impossible to begin large undertakings without a definite commitment of aid from county shares of the gasoline tax.

Californians Building Nevada 'Gold Coast'

Norman Billz, young Nevada capitalist, and George C. Whittell, San Francisco millionaire, are principal backers of a one-million-dollar mountain resort and winter sports center to be built next year in the natural snow basin of Tahoe Meadows, 28 miles from Reno, seen above. Paulette Goddard, left, long romantically linked with Charlie Chaplin, is known to be interested in the project, as are other movie colonists seeking to build a new American "Gold Coast." A huge hotel and gambling casino at Sand Harbor also is projected.

GARRISON BILL FOR NOVEMBER VOTE IS EXPLAINED BY UP

This is another article in a series discussing propositions to appear on the November ballot. The article has to do with Proposition 13.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 13.—(UP)—Another question which has developed bitter legislative debate and become a statewide issue is set before the voters in proposition 13, referendum on the Garrison Revenue Bond Act. The bill was passed by the 1937

While the budget of about $30,000,000 for the next biennium remains constant, highway requests have piled up to $130,000,000, it was disclosed.

Solving Problems

THE world today is faced with many problems—social, economic, financial, political, physical, and mental. Harassed humanity looks this way, then that, for some remedy for its individual and collective difficulties. Too seldom does it find a satisfactory solution. Yet it is a divinely scientific fact that for every problem there is a right solution.

The first chapter of the Holy Scriptures states (Genesis 1:1, 31): "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. . . . And God saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good." And in the New Testament, John declares of God (1:3): "All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made." Do we believe these Biblical statements? Do we motivate our daily activity by this standard? John's clear vision enabled him to see "a new heaven and a new earth" (Revelation 21:1). May not each individual, in a degree, attain this pure perception? And as men attain this understanding, is it not certain that world conditions will improve?

"Theoretically, that is true," admits the earnest inquirer; "but how shall we proceed to bring about an effectual change in human thought?" Mary Baker Eddy, in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," gives a succinct reply (p. 318): "The material senses originate and support all that is material, untrue, selfish, or debased. They would put soul into soil, life into limbo, and doom all things to decay. We must silence this lie of material sense with the truth of spiritual sense;" and, also (p. 298), "Spiritual sense, contradicting the material senses, involves intuition, hope, faith, understanding, fruition, reality."

Certainly, since the Bible statements in relation to creation are true, and Christendom generally admits that they are, then whatever is not good is not authorized by God, and is therefore not true. To realize this fact is to prove it true in one's own experience. In proportion as it is understood, one may utilize it to the exclusion of any discordant legislature. Principal feature of the act is the provision permitting political subdivisions to issue bonds upon a simple majority vote. At present such action requires a two-thirds majority.

A revenue bond, as the term implies, is a lien against the revenues only and not the real property. For example, if a power plant is constructed by funds raised from sale of revenue bonds, the obligation operates against the revenues derived from sale of power but not from the plant itself.

Senator Garrison has set forth the following arguments in favor of his measure:

" . . . Revenue bonds make it possible to finance public improvements without mortgaging homes or farms. They are safeguard against unsound argument or circumstance, just as one rejects a statement that two and two is five when he knows that it is four.

Nehemiah, while living in comfort and security himself as cup-bearer to the king of Persia, heard that his people were in sore straits. Having asked divine guidance, he obtained permission from the Persian king to return and rebuild the walls of Jerusalem. After the work was begun, many were the suggestions of material sense as to lack of numbers, authority, strength, and ability, but Nehemiah steadfastly refused to come down from his God-given work to parley with false arguments, and the wall was completed. For, says the record (Nehemiah 4:6): "The people had a mind to work." So will the defenses of the world today be strengthened in proportion as those with spiritual vision work without ceasing in the cause of righteousness and peace.

The primary problem of the world today is to gain an understanding of God. When men can be induced to give attention to this endeavor, they will find world problems being solved as naturally as are problems in mathematics when the right rules are applied.

God is Love. With love as the leading motive in the world, what would become of war? Does anyone wish to kill a beloved friend or to deprive him of anything? And as men know God, the loving, all-powerful Father-Mother, giving liberally of good to all, what becomes of unemployment? The problem is solved as one expresses whatever of good lies within his present opportunity. As his right activity increases, he will find not only that he himself is of more and more help to others, but also that others are more and more gratefully helpful to him. Thus will the world's varied difficulties be diminished and finally overcome.

Christ Jesus, the Way-shower, has given us the perfect example in loving service, in his overcoming of the world. . . . Though there may be frequent overturnings, "God is working His purpose out," as the words from a hymn declare, and those not mesmerized by the world's mistakes made in the effort to solve its problems, are joyously advancing and aiding in the true solution. . . .—The Christian Science Monitor.

Politically Speaking

by John W. Dunlap
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 13.—(UP)—Back in 1910, when a young rancher named Philip Bancroft helped elect Hiram Johnson for governor of California, he could hardly know that the favor would be returned 28 years later.

But that's exactly what happened when Bancroft, Republican candidate for United States senator, was given the wholehearted endorsement of the same Hiram Johnson, now senior senator from California and one of the best known Republicans in the country.

Johnson's statement came almost projects that can not pay their own way out of revenue . . .

Garrison accused privately owned utilities, which he designated as the power trust, with starting the referendum to keep people from enjoying cheaper electricity.

Glenn D. Willaman, secretary of the California real estate association and other opponents of the idea have prepared this statement:

This dangerous act would abolish the time tested principal which requires the vote of two thirds of the people to approve public borrowings. It would permit the issuance of revenue bonds, in any amount, by a bare majority of those going to the polls. In reality, it would mean that any district, city or county could be plunged into debt by a small minority, as only a fraction of the registered vote usually turns out for a bond election."

simultaneously with the backing of former President Hoover, who had the following to say of Bancroft:

"The greatest help this country could have today is the addition of independent minded, sane and courageous men to Congress. Mr. Bancroft is such a man. He has the capacity, the character and the experience that our country needs. His election would give California a large place in the United States senate."

The silence of Johnson on state politics was broken as Bancroft marshalled his strength in the final month of the campaign. He is opposed by Sheridan Downey, liberal Democrat and espouser of the controversial $30 every Thursday pension plan.

Johnson bandied no words as he reviewed their long standing association together and said "of course I am for Phil Bancroft for United States senator."

"I aw for Philip Bancroft because he has honesty, integrity, ability and above all, courage. In plain unvarnished language he has told the people just where he stands and why.

"You may not agree with all he says, but he leaves you with the highest respect for his opinions and with glowing admiration for his candor and forthrightness.

"In a political world of deceit and hypocrisy he stands forth a new kind of campaigner, who believes in what he says and says it without equivocation. His character is above reproach, and character and courage and independence the times demand.

"Many issues of transcendent importance will arise in our republic in the next two years which must be decided by character and courage and independence, and then men like Bancroft will be needed."

Promise of future support was indicated when Johnson said he could not discuss these issues in a brief statement but "I hope to do so hereafter."

The senator traced his fight against a great corporation (Southern Pacific) nearly three decades ago and praised Bancroft for his support at that time.

The question mark is whether Johnson's appeal affected many votes in addition to those who were already for Bancroft. The Walnut Creek rancher is faced with the major problem of cutting in the margin of more than 800,000 Democratic voters over Republicans. There is no question, however, that Johnson aided the Bancroft cause.

EXECUTION DATES ARE FIXED FOR STATE PRISONERS

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 6.—(UP)—Robert Lee Cannon and Albert Kessel, youngest of a band of seven Folsom convicts whose desperate break for freedom cost the life of Warden Clarence A. Larkin in 1937, are scheduled to be the first victims of the state's new lethal gas chamber at San Quentin.

Warden Court Smith of San Quentin said the December 2 execution date set by Superior Judge Dal M. Lemmon of Sacramento county will place the pair first to die under the lethal gas method, approved by an act of the 1937 legislature.

Three other members of the group will follow their companions on successive Fridays. Fred Barnes and Wesley Eudy will go on December 9, while the execution of Ed Davis leader of the uprising is scheduled for December 16.

Two convicts were killed by the rifle fire of Folsom guards on the day of the rioting, September 19 of last year. Guard H. E. Martin died from convict stab wounds, as did Larkin.

Captain of the guard William J. Ryan, who put up a tremendous battle during the melee has recovered from his injuries and is back at his post. He has been mentioned as Folsom's next warden in the event Clyde I. Plummer who succeeded Larkin is transferred to the new prison for first offenders at Chino, San Bernardino county.

Smith indicated, however, Davis may either gain or lose a few days because of a conflict in dates of the execution of Maj. Allen D. Boggs of Santa Cruz.

Boggs also is scheduled to die on December 16. He will be hanged because the crime for which he was convicted, the murder of his wife, occurred before August 27, 1937 when lethal gas execution became effective in California. All persons found guilty of capital punishment crimes committed before this date must be hanged.

Governor Frank F. Merriam has been requested to change one of the dates.

Others scheduled to die in December, unless they obtain executive clemency, are the Britte brothers of Siskiyou county, convicted of slaying two peace officers and a civilian in the remote region of Northern California.

Buick Assembly Lines Speed Production As Demand Is Growing for New Models

FLINT, MICH., — Harlow H. Curtice, President of the Buick division of General Motors, today announced that Buick assembly lines are on a two shift basis now to meet increasing production scheduled for the next two months.

The assembly lines will then be working sixteen hours in two eight hour shifts, he said, and car output will be stepped up to between 900 and 1,000 cars daily. Previous average has been running between 700 and 800 cars per day.

Heavy demand for new models is the reason for the increase, Curtice said.
